Introducing

THE 2020
FARMINGDALE STATE COLLEGE

ON-DEMAND
President's Gala Journal

A Welcome Message from the President of Farmingdale State College

Dear Friends,

We all know how much we would love to gather in celebration. The public health emergency precludes that, but I want to assure you that there is indeed much to celebrate. In fact, we may have more to celebrate than in any time in the College's recent history.

So many of our students, faculty and staff are among the public health heroes who've helped to see us through these difficult times. These include our many faculty, students and staff in Health and Wellness, Medical Lab Services, and Nursing who've worked in the field and labs, collected PPE, became contact tracers and Covid testers and public health advocates on an amazing scale.

The list only grows longer. It includes our IT staff who deployed countless pieces of technology, set up hundreds of wireless hotspots and allowed the College, with Provost Laura Joseph, to effectively move 2,200 course sections to remote delivery. It comprises our faculty - hundreds of whom labored to remotely but effectively teach, advise, and support our students with the help of our Distance Learning staff. It also includes our 20+ member Emergency Management Team which met twice daily during the darkest and difficult first weeks of the Covid crisis. And of course, our Custodial staff who have been here all day, every day working throughout this crisis to clean, sanitize and decontaminate.

These efforts underscore that it is people who make FSC great. I dare not name names - but they know who they are - as do many of you. Greatness is an overused term, but it applies aptly to the work that so many at the College have done. That same commitment extends to meeting our fundamental mission - our dedication to student success. Thanks to many of you Farmingdale remains an exemplary engine of opportunity for our students and for Long Island.

Our students are pursuing undergraduate research, publishing papers with faculty, and competing successfully in academic events against their peers from some of the nation's best known colleges. Recently, FSC has been selected to receive the 2020 Carnegie Community Engagement Classification.

If one were to choose an institution that captures the true spirit and mission of public higher education, it could well be Farmingdale. I love to tell the stories of our students' success. That success - our success - is surely a key reason that we remain one of the fastest growing four-year public institutions.

You are among the College's most important advocates and supporters. On behalf of everyone at Farmingdale, thank you for your partnership and your financial support. Enjoy this year's President's Gala when you want, where you want, and how you want!

Sincerely,

John S. Nader

The Farmingdale College Foundation & Alumni Association

Dear Alumni and Friends,

On behalf of the Farmingdale College Foundation and the Farmingdale College Alumni Association, thank you for supporting this year's unique On-Demand President's Gala.

Although this year is certainly unlike any other in Farmingdale's long history, one fact remains the same: our most remarkable stories revolve around our students. More than 70% of them not only work while they study, but they work twice as many hours weekly on average as students attending other SUNY four-year colleges. Nearly one-third of our students continue to be first generation to college, and 40% identify as members of minority groups.

And many of these graduates leave FSC with little or no debt. Over 90% of our graduates are employed or in graduate programs within six months after graduation. Three-quarters of those grads continue to work or study right here on Long Island. The earnings of our graduates at three, five and ten years after commencement rank among the very highest tier of SUNY institutions.

For more than a century, over 100,000 Farmingdale State College alumni have been the fuel for the Long Island economy. As the College embraces the future with great enthusiasm, we look forward to working with even more corporate partners, alumni and friends to create new pathways to success.

Your generosity and support ensures that Farmingdale State College remains a leader among elite public institutions in this region and beyond. Thank you and stay safe. We hope to see you on campus again soon.

Sincerely,

Robert Van Nostrand

The Provost and Vice President for Academic Affairs

Dear Colleagues and Friends,

The challenges we have faced as an institution over the course of the past few months have been unprecedented. Moving over 2,000 course sections to a remote learning environment in less than two weeks was a remarkable feat and would not have happened without the commitment and dedication of the faculty and staff. It was without hesitation that the college community joined together in an effort to maintain the educational progression of our students.

"FSC Strong" continues to be the mantra and one that has carried us through as an institution into the Fall term with a record number of enrolled students. These students have demonstrated their willingness to adapt to the "new normal" in support of their academic endeavors. They overcame multiple obstacles and have worked hard to engage virtually in college events and classroom activities. We acknowledge their achievements and are so very proud of their accomplishments.

Looking ahead, it is my hope that we can slowly and safely bring more students back to campus. In the meantime, I want to personally thank you for supporting the Farmingdale College Foundation and the mission of the College. It is with your generosity that we are able to continue to change lives and build the futures of our next generation. I consider you to be an indispensable part of the team that enables Farmingdale State College to deliver exceptional academic outcomes through scholarship, research and student engagement.

Sincerely,

Dr. Laura Joseph
Provost and Vice President for Academic Affairs

The Vice President for Student Affairs & Chief Diversity Officer

Dear Friends of Farmingdale State College,

The Student Affairs' mission is anchored in the synergistic collaboration with the Farmingdale State College community to enhance and sustain a dynamic student experience which fosters student success by leveraging all resources to impact the student life cycle. Student Affairs is a critical component of the higher education milieu. At the core of its purpose is to assist students to develop an affinity for life long development, growth, and exploration. Community and experience are two salient attributes of the Farmingdale College brand. We are pleased to welcome and thank our alumni and friends as partners in this alliance that paves the way for our students to become engaged citizens thereby affecting generations following, but also assuring that the legacy of the College and impact on students are long lasting. Your tangible expression of endearment to the Institution and its vision and mission strengthen our ability to build loyalty from freshmen orientation to graduation by offering an array of growth opportunities - be it through emergency financial assistance, mentorship, affinity groups, networking, or co-curricular learning experiences. Your expressed commitment to making a difference is deeply treasured.

As I reflect upon our collaboration with Development and Alumni Engagement and its past, current, and future accomplishments and ventures, I must admit that what really exists is not just wonderful teamwork but a beautiful friendship. The Division of Student Affairs and the 10,000 students it represents recognize that there are few limits to success when you have the right people supporting you. Thank you to our alumni and friends for making dreams come true, obstacles surmountable, creating a lifetime of memories, and most importantly, changing lives!

We look forward to more innovative programming together by taking advantage of sharing information and insights as we continue to build a gateway to success for our students and future alumni.

Sincerely,

Kevin D. Jordan, EdD
Vice President for Student Affairs and Chief Diversity Officer

The Vice President for Development & Alumni Engagement

Dear Farmingdale Friends,

Thank you all for supporting our 2020 On-Demand President's Gala.

This year we've all been reminded of the profound change and impact philanthropy has on the lives of our students. Through your support, you have ensured that our students will have options ahead of them and they need not end their college education despite the challenges faced, the losses endured, and the existing struggles that were magnified. You have provided our students with a path towards career success; a path that they will use to become the leaders and innovators our economy will need to recover and thrive once again. It's that simple.

Farmingdale State College will continue to advance and serve as an engine of opportunity for the Long Island community and beyond because of you. This non-event event wouldn't be possible without your participation and support in this most unusual way. So, thank you for not attending but for still "showing up," for staying safe at home, and most importantly for playing such a critical role in this year's fundraising efforts.

We are deeply grateful for the investment you have made in Farmingdale State College, not only in the good times, but also in less certain ones.

We look forward to coming together again in person for the President's Gala next year. Until then, be safe, be kind, stay healthy and have a lovely holiday season.
